Welcome! Our 2017 Humboldt Sufi Campout will be held once again at Pamplin Grove, a primitive campground (no electricity, showers, or flush toilets) in the midst of an old-growth redwood forest on the banks of the Van Duzen River. We look forward to creating our camp community with old and new friends — there will be plenty of opportunities for shared activities, and plenty of free time as well. Campers are also welcome to simply rest and recharge in this grace-full, peace-filled environment.

This year the gate opens Friday at 2 PM, and registered campers are welcome to come any time thereafter. Campsites are available on a first-come first-served basis. We will leave the grove on Monday by 11 AM.

Camp will provide lunch and dinner; breakfast is on your own.
 If you have specific or complex dietary needs, please bring your own food.

Remember to bring: camping gear, cookware, dinnerware & silverware, clean-up supplies.
 Bring your own breakfast foods, morning coffee, tea, etc.

We've raised the fees this year to cover the increased cost of the campground.

Don't bring: pets, alcohol, recreational drugs.

Please register early — not only is camping space limited but you'll get to pay the early-bird rate! Registration is only by postal or hand delivery of your completed registration forms and camp fee payment. There is no registration via email or phone.

Some financial assistance is available for those in need. All requests need to be received by August 11.
