Hello, friends

Couple important messages (apologies if you receive this twice):

ONE ~ For those of you who have been following the Sufism & the Art of Living program... The Sufi Qawwali recital announced for December 7 at Mahea Uchiyama Dance Center is being rescheduled to January 12 and will be at a different venue. Please throw away the Sufi Qawwali announcements you may have received from us in print or by email; we will be sending out new announcements very soon. Our apologies for any inconvenience.

Closing Session

On December 7 in Rudramandir we will be doing the closing session of Sufism & the Art of Living. The theme is Celebration, Community & Belonging. We'll exchange views about community, have a conversation about anything that came up for you during earlier sessions, talk about how we know when we belong. Might run a little longer than usual.

We'll close the session and program with musical zikr, a word that means remembrance. There are many forms of zikr: repetition of a phrase, chanting, prayer, invocation and movement. All present are invited to join us in singing.

Place: The Sutra Room in Rudramandir, 830 Bancroft Way, Berkeley 94710

Time: Doors open at 6:45 pm; we start at 7:00 pm

Tickets: Tickets are available at Eventbrite. There are discounts for groups, students and need-based participants.

TWO ~ But wait -- there's more! Today and tomorrow, December 1 and 2, all tickets for this event will be available for $15.00 -- for 48 hours. Our way of apologizing for all the confusion.

Ahhh ... the rain!

Wishing you a blessed weekend...
