

Satsang ZIKR

Halim Friedman

Vakila
ter Veld

Sufism has been called the journey of God, in God, to God. As a group, all together, we practice zikr (with the repetition of “La illa ha Ill allahu”) in melodic and chant form with some simple movement. It’s a love song focused in the heart, with the meaning that “Nothing exists, only God”.

The approximately 45-minute ceremony is accompanied by live music. With Halim Friedman and Vakila ter Veld, both recognized as teachers in the sufi lineage of Hazrat Inayat Khan and Murshid Samuel L. Lewis. They bring a relaxed, friendly and deep atmosphere to their approach and lead this particular spiritual practice twice monthly in the San Francisco Bay Area. They have also taught in Europe and other parts of the United States.
