About Dharma Night (by Murshid Wali Ali)

Murshid Samuel Lewis was a realized being who was recognized as such in many spiritual traditions. He often used Dharma Night classes to show the various ways realization of the great reality of all could be achieved. He received the Dharma transmission in his study of Zen Buddhism with Sokei-an Sasaki and Nyogen Senzaki whose teachings are now available. Sokei-an's amazing instructions are at the core of the Dharma Night class we have been conducting for many months.

Central to our process are meditation, koans, and the profound translation with commentary by Sokei-an of the Sutra of the Sixth Patriarch which he calls Original Nature. The class material has been audio recorded as well as videoed so people from any distance can secure the recordings. This year audio recordings will be available for all the classes and one session per month will be videotaped. The process has been extremely beneficial for all those who have engaged with the teachings and there is movement toward realization of one's own original Buddha nature among all who have joined in.

Love and Blessings, Wali Ali

About the classes & the class recordings:

In 2018 we are moving to a dana-based fee structure for the Dharma Night recordings. Previously we were asking $20 for a month's worth of recordings, but let your heart (and your pocketbook) be your guide as to what you offer for these teachings. We will be switching to audio recordings of the weekly gatherings. Inshallah, if the equipment allows, we will be videotaping one class per month. If you're in the Bay Area and wish to attend in person, classes are now every Thursday night at 7:30PM at the Mentorgarten, 410 Precita Ave., San Francisco. (Check online to confirm that the class is on.) Contact barakatcb@gmail.com to request recordings or for any details.

Here are a few quotes from a 2017 distant attendee: "I look forward to each dharma night class.... an opportunity to glimmer my Original Nature. Gems of wisdom are shared. I pray I catch one thread that may lead to my enlightenment. Gratitude fills my heart. We are all connected in this Oneness."
